

Risk Management Services

Risk Management plays a major role in day-to-day operations. An in-depth loss control assessment can provide valuable direction in order to better manage risk and improve profitability.

Orcus Fire Protection's philosophy is to provide clients with solution based risk engineering services targeted to meet their specific risk management needs.

Orcus Fire Protection is not affiliated with any insurance company or underwriting agency. This allows us to provide our clients with unbiased analysis required to target the specific needs of each client facility.

We offer turn key loss control and fire protection consulting services that are designed to assess individual risk and to provide a hands on approach in order to offer the best solution to our client's needs.
